Short description

Hi! I am Kirill, I am 24 years old. I am looking for a job vacancy for the position of junior front end developer. Ready to learn new technologies and work in a team. Before starting web development for myself, I worked as a 3D designer for more than three years, and for the last year and a half I had the experience of working as a department manager, so I really know how such a mechanism as a team works) Have a good day and a peaceful sky!
